

- 14 -

A B S T R A C T

A disposable diaper has a pair of wings, and the wings are formed with a nonwoven fabric and the nonwoven fabric partially extends outward in a circumferential direction to form fastener sections which are, in turn, provided on its inner surfaces with male members of mechanical fasteners. The nonwoven fabric is formed on the inner surface thereof with a plurality of fine fusion spots so that the number of the fine fusion spots per unit area of the inner surfaces is larger in the fastener sections and first regions than in second regions extending inside the first regions.